Course Format

Technology Intensive, Hybrid, and Online Courses

This course adopts a completely online delivery format with no designated day/time meeting pattern. Reliable internet connectivity, computer, laptop, and/or smart device (e.g. tablet) with webcam and microphone are required for the course. This course requires the use of electronic proctoring through ProctorU for midterm exams and the final exam.

Course Description

SJSU Catalog Description: Allocation of resources and distribution of income as affected by the workings of the price system and by government policies.

Further Description: Microeconomics studies the choice of individuals, firms, the government, and other organizations. The course will provide an introduction to the concepts and tools used by economists to analyze decisions made by individuals and firms who face limited resources.

Course Prerequisites

There are no course prerequisites. Econ 1B may be taken concurrently or prior to Econ 1A.

Course Web Page, E-mail and Other Communication

The syllabus, Launchpad access, videos, resources, quizzes, exams, etc. may be found on the Canvas course page; this will be your “one stop shop” for the course. Students are responsible for regularly checking Canvas, as well as their e-mail address currently on file with MySJSU, and spam box. Also, in Canvas, you can set your notification preferences to daily; note that default setting is weekly notification. Please check Canvas “Announcements” for any updates as well as reminders.

Course Goals and Learning Outcomes (CLO)

This course satisfies Economics BA/BS PL01: Microeconomics. By the end of the course, students should be able to:

- Define microeconomic terms.
- Explain how microeconomic concepts and tools are used to understand economic behavior.
- Apply microeconomic concepts and tools to analyze and evaluate markets, firms, and policies.
- Relate microeconomic principles to individual decision-making, current events, and a range of policy questions.

GE Learning Outcomes (GELO)

Economics 1B is a general education course that meets the requirements for area D1, Human Behavior in the social science area. Students learn to apply microeconomic theory, to evaluate social information, draw upon different points of view, and formulate policy implications. Finally, students are able to place social events in an appropriate context. The GE writing requirement (1500 word minimum) will be satisfied by writing assignments. Details of the writing requirement and assignments will be posted on Canvas.
