Acknowledgments

The issue of advocacy and support for undocumented students came to the attention of the College Board during its first Prepárate™: Educating Latinos for the Future of America conference in 2007. The College Board would like to acknowledge all educators who work to support documented and undocumented students and those who work diligently to ensure equity and access for all students. We especially want to thank Alfred Herrera, Assistant Vice Provost for Academic Partnerships and the Director of the UCLA Center for Community College Partnerships in the Division of Undergraduate Education; Irma Archuleta, Vice President for Student Services, Evergreen Community College; Elena Macias, Special Assistant to the President, Government, Legislative, Community Relations, California State University, Long Beach; the Leticia A. Network; and other educators who have informed and guided our efforts on this issue.

Repository of Resources for Undocumented Students

Undocumented immigrants face tremendous difficulties when seeking a higher education. The imposition of out-of-state tuition fees effectively keeps them out of college in most of the United States. In 14 states, in-state tuition laws allow these students to pay lower fees and, in a few cases, access state financial aid. However, even in these 14 states, undocumented students, their families and educators face several difficulties when trying to access information on admission policies, financial aid and scholarships, as well as on support organizations.

Admission — Research includes information on available college guides for undocumented students as well as a sample affidavit that these students are required to submit when applying to college. With the exception of New Mexico, Utah and Wisconsin, the sample language of an affidavit is provided.

Financial Aid and Scholarships — Research includes information on available scholarships as well as resources on the states that provide financial aid. Making information on this process available to a much wider audience can help education advocates and policymakers understand the ways and opportunities to make financial resources available to undocumented students.

Support Organizations — Research includes information on associations of students and educators that are dedicated to increasing higher education access for undocumented students.

Although this compilation is by no means exhaustive, it provides an important step toward the identification of current available resources for students and educators in the states that have passed in-state tuition laws. It is important to note that because information on certain resources was not readily available (i.e., financial aid in Kansas or Wisconsin or student organizations in New Mexico and Oklahoma), a general list was also generated to aid students in those states. That list is provided at the end of the document.

Finally, a few updates are worth mentioning. In 2011, three states passed their in-state tuition laws including Connecticut, Maryland and Rhode Island. Specific resources on those states are not included in this guide given the recent passage of the laws but the goal is to provide those in the near future. In addition, last year saw two important developments in the area of financial aid as both California and Illinois passed laws to permit undocumented immigrant students' greater access to such resources. Both laws are unique efforts that we hope inspire many more to follow suit.

Washington	Effective July 1, 2003, Washington state law changed the definition of "resident student." The law makes certain students, who are not permanent residents or citizens of the United States, eligible for resident student status — and eligible to pay resident tuition rates — when they attend public colleges and universities in this state. The law does not make these students eligible to receive need-based state or federal financial aid. To qualify, students must have: earned a high school diploma or equivalent (GED) from a Washington State high school; lived in Washington State for three years prior to receiving a high school diploma or GED, and lived continually in Washington since earning the high school diploma or GED, and can meet college or university admission requirements expected of all other students.	Washington Higher Education Residency Affidavit/Declaration/Certification To qualify for resident status, students must complete this affidavit/declaration/certification if they are not permanent residents or citizens of the United States but have met the following conditions: Resided in Washington State for the three (3) years immediately prior to receiving a high school diploma, and completed the full senior year at a Washington high school, or Completed the equivalent of a high school diploma and resided in Washington State for the three (3) years immediately before receiving the equivalent of the diploma, and Continuously resided in the State since earning the high school diploma or its equivalent. _____ Print full name Date of birth (mo/day/yr) _____ Student Identification Number (if available) Relationship to the college or university: Applicant Current Student Name of high school: _____ I certify that: I will file an application to become a permanent resident of the United States as soon as I am eligible to apply. Wisconsin	Effective June 29, 2009, under 36.27 (2) (cr) a person who is a citizen of a country other than the United States is entitled to the exemption under par. (a) if that person meets all of the following: Requirements: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. The person graduated from a high school in this state or received a declaration of equivalency of high school graduation from this state. 2. The person was continuously present in this state for at least three (3) years following the first day of attending a high school in this state or immediately preceding receipt of a declaration of equivalency of high school graduation. 3. The person enrolls in an institution and provides that institution with proof that the person has filed or will file an application for a permanent resident visa with U.S. Citizenship and Immigration Services as soon as the person is eligible to do so.
	It is important to note that there has been a change to Wisconsin Statute 36.27(2). Section (cr), the provision that provided an exemption from non-resident tuition for a "person who is a citizen of a country other than the United States," has been repealed, effective July 1, 2011. Therefore, the exemption from non-resident tuition based on Section (cr) is no longer available to any student. Continuing students who had previously been granted exemption under this provision will be reclassified as non-residents for tuition purposes for any term beginning after July 1, 2011. The above language and this note have been included in this repository in order to fully understand the impact on undocumented students residing in Wisconsin.

State policies help '1079 Students' aim for college, universities

Contents

- Access to college, financial aid for future teachers
- U.S. Congress considers 'DREAM' Act

This brochure is intended to help educators, students and parents understand how new laws approved in Washington State can help undocumented (1079) students continue their education after high school, and where to seek financial assistance.

This brochure also explains the DREAM Act, a proposal being considered in the United States Congress. If approved by the Congress the DREAM Act would permit undocumented students to live, work and attend college legally in the United States, and could lead to permanent legal residency.

Public education is 'vital strength' of our system of government

Washington State's Constitution says: "It is the paramount duty of the state to provide an ample education for all children residing within our borders..."

Because of these important words, all children have a right to a public education, from kindergarten through 12th grade (K-12), without cost to the student or family.

This is one of the benefits of living in the United States. The right for all residents to a public K-12 education is considered a vital strength of our system of government and democracy.

There is nothing, however, that guarantees all students the right to attend colleges or universities. Those students who do gain admission to college, must find a way to pay for it. For many students whose families cannot afford the cost of college, state and federal financial aid is available. For undocumented students, obtaining financial aid is more difficult, but not impossible.

Who are "1079 Students"? Can 1079 Students attend college?

On May 7, 2003, House Bill (HB) 1079 was signed into law by Governor Gary Locke. Because of the new law, undocumented (1079) students who have lived in our state for three years or more can be considered "residents," but only for purposes of paying tuition fees at Washington colleges and universities. HB 1079 does not change a student's legal immigration status.

Students from Brewster High School and Eastern Washington University traveled to Olympia in February to encourage the state Legislature to approve funding for conditional scholarships for future bilingual teachers. See inside to learn how to apply.

The new law means that 1079 Students are now permitted to pay tuition rates that all other resident students pay.

Who is eligible to pay resident tuition fees?

1079 Students can qualify to pay resident tuition if he/she:

- ∞ has earned a high school diploma or equivalent (GED) from a Washington State high school; and,
- ∞ has lived in Washington State for three years prior to receiving a high school diploma or GED, and,
- ∞ has lived continually in Washington since earning the high school diploma or GED, and can meet college or university admission requirements expected of all other students.

The differences between resident and non-resident tuition rates are shown below:

(annual tuition for 2004)	Resident	Non-Resident
University of Washington	$5,286	$17,916
Eastern Washington University	$3,582	$12,438

Washington State University	$5,154	$13,572
Western Washington University	$4,453	$13,840

Columbia Basin Community College	$2,232	$ 7,440

What 1079 Students must do to enroll in college:

1. Complete the admissions papers from the college or university the student plans to attend.
2. Fill out and sign an Affidavit that should be available at any public high school, college or university in the state.
3. Submit the admissions papers and Affidavit to the college/university by the deadline stated by the institution.

• The Affidavit that 1079 Students are required to sign is a confidential statement verifying that he/she qualifies to pay resident tuition, and that he/she will seek legal permanent residency when legally permitted to do so.

• If an Affidavit is not provided or available, the 1079 Student should ask a trusted relative, friend, teacher, or counselor to request it from the institution he/she plans to attend, or the Affidavit is available on the Internet at the following locations:

Paying for college— are public funds available for 1079 Students?

Paying for college is made more difficult for 1079 Students because they seldom qualify for state or federal public financial aid.

In 2004, one possible source of financial assistance became available when Washington's legislature approved funding for conditional scholarships for future teachers. The law making this possible is House Bill (HB) 2708, creating the Future Teachers Conditional Scholarship and Loan Repayment Program.

Who is eligible for future teacher conditional scholarships?

1079 Students are eligible to participate in the Future Teachers program.

The Future Teachers conditional scholarship program encourages and assists students and paraprofessionals to become teachers and helps current teachers obtain additional endorsements.

In return for scholarships, participants agree to teach in Washington K-12 public schools. This award must be repaid with interest if the recipient fails to teach or fails to teach in a classroom needing a bilingual teacher.

Priority will be given for future teachers in the program who seek certificates or endorsements in math, science, technology or special education.

Additionally, for 2004-05, priority will be given to future teachers in the program with demonstrated bilingual ability in English and any other language that is needed in Washington schools.

Between 25-50 Future Teacher scholarships will be awarded for the 2004-05 academic year. Those selected to receive the awards are eligible for up to five years of funding while working toward their teaching certificate or additional teaching endorsement.

The scholarship amount will depend on tuition charged at the college or university attended by each student, but the amount cannot exceed the undergraduate tuition fees charged at the University of Washington.

Important information about Future Teacher conditional scholarship awards

- ∞ Students must submit an application to the Higher Education Coordinating Board by October 15, 2004.
- ∞ Students selected to receive the scholarships will be notified in early November 2004.

Paying for college— are private funds available for 1079 Students?

1079 Students, like all other students, may qualify for private financial aid from individuals, foundations, or businesses.

There are many individuals and organizations who try very hard to raise funds for scholarships, especially for students from families who cannot afford to pay tuition costs, or who face other difficult challenges in getting an education.

Students should talk with high school counselors and teachers, and college admissions and recruiting staff to gain a better understanding of financial aid assistance that they may qualify for. Local organizations that serve Latino students and families should also be contacted for assistance.

Undocumented students, education and the DREAM Act

The Development, Relief and Education for Alien Minors (DREAM) Act (S. 1545) is being considered in the United States Congress. If approved by the Congress and signed by the President of the United States, the DREAM Act would permit undocumented students to live, work attend college legally, and could lead to permanent legal residency and citizenship.

The DREAM Act has not been approved by the Congress, but it could gain approval in the near future. Because 2004 is a national election year, the DREAM Act is not expected to be approved this year. However, there is growing bipartisan support for the DREAM Act in the Congress and many people across the nation are working for its approval on behalf of thousands of deserving students.

Why the DREAM Act is important for students and our nation

As stated in the record of the U.S. Senate:

“The DREAM Act is a welcomed policy which views undocumented students as the valuable resource they are to our nation’s future.”

“The DREAM Act represents a common-sense approach to U.S. immigration policy, aimed at helping students who have spent much of their lives in our country.

“Thousands of undocumented students graduate from our high schools each year. Many came to America as children, playing no part in the decision to enter the United States, and may not even know they are here illegally. A great many grow up to become honest and hard-working adults who are loyal to our country and who seek academic and professional excellence.

“Thus, the DREAM Act is a welcomed policy which views

Above: key leaders in Washington State who support extending higher education opportunities to undocumented students.

undocumented students as the valuable resource they are to our nation’s future.”

If Congress approved the DREAM Act, who would qualify?

Senator Orrin Hatch (R-Utah) and Senator Richard Durbin (D-IL), co-sponsors of the DREAM Act, have gained much bipartisan support in the U.S. Senate.

The DREAM Act would grant temporary residency for six (6) years for those who:

- ∞ entered the U.S. before age 16;
- ∞ have lived here continuously for five years;
- ∞ have stayed away from crime;
- ∞ have either earned a high school diploma or GED;
- ∞ have gained acceptance to a college or university.

During the six-year temporary residence period, students can earn permanent legal residency by:

- ∞ Obtaining a 2-year college degree or trade school diploma;
- ∞ Completing two years towards earning a bachelor’s degree or graduate program at a college or university;
- ∞ Serving in the U.S. military;

Important

- ∞ Financial aid is not available through the DREAM Act. Students, however, could work legally once they are granted conditional residency.
- ∞ The DREAM Act does not grant amnesty.
- ∞ DREAM Act is a proposal being considered by Congress and has not yet been approved.

Expandiendo la Educación Superior a Todos los Estudiantes que lo Merecen

Acceso a escuelas superiores, ayuda financiera para futuro profesores

El congreso de los Estados Unidos considera el Acta del SUEÑO

Este folleto tiene el propósito de ayudar a los educadores, estudiantes y padres de familia a comprender como las nuevas leyes aprobadas en el estado de Washington pueden ayudar a los estudiantes indocumentados a continuar su educación después de la preparatoria o secundaria y en dónde buscar asistencia financiera.

Este folleto también explica el decreto SUEÑO (DREAM son las siglas en inglés), una propuesta de ley que está actualmente siendo considerada en el Congreso de los Estados Unidos. Si el Congreso aprueba el decreto SUEÑO esto permitiría que los estudiantes indocumentados pudieran vivir, trabajar y asistir a la universidad en los Estados Unidos, y podría conducir a obtener residencia legal permanente y/o la ciudadanía.

La educación pública es la 'fuerza vital' de nuestro sistema de gobierno

La constitución del estado de Washington declara: Es el deber primordial del estado el proporcionar amplias oportunidades educativas a todos los niños que residen en nuestras fronteras..."

Debido a estas palabras tan importantes, todos los niños tienen derecho a la educación pública, desde el jardín de niños hasta la preparatoria (doceavo grado en los Estados Unidos), sin costo alguno para el estudiante o su familia.

Este es uno de los beneficios de vivir en los Estados Unidos. El derecho que todo residente tiene de asistir a la escuela pública. Esto es considerado una de las fortalezas más vitales de nuestro sistema de gobierno y de nuestra democracia.

Sin embargo, no hay nada que garantice a todos los estudiantes el derecho de asistir a la universidad o a las escuelas superiores públicas. Aquellos estudiantes que obtienen admisión a algún colegio superior público o a alguna universidad, deben encontrar la manera para pagarlo (a).

Para muchos estudiantes de familias de bajo ingreso que no pueden pagar el costo de las escuelas superiores, las ayudas financieras que son estatales y federales están disponibles. Para los estudiantes indocumentados, obtener ayuda financiera es más difícil, pero no imposible..

¿Quiénes son los estudiantes "1079"? ¿Pueden los estudiantes "1079" asistir a la universidad?

El 7 de mayo del año 2003, el Gobernador Gary

Estudiantes de Brewster High School and Eastern Washington University viajaron a Olympia en February para animar a la legislatura del estado a que aprueban fondos para los tutores profesores.

Locke decretó como ley al proyecto de ley HB 1079 [House Bill (HB) 1079]. Debido a esta nueva ley, los estudiantes indocumentados que han vivido en nuestro estado por tres años o más pueden ser considerados "residentes", pero solo para el propósito de pagar la colegiatura en las universidades particulares o la cuota en los colegios universitarios públicos de Washington. El proyecto de ley HB 1079 no cambia el estado legal del estudiante.

La nueva ley significa que a los estudiantes 1079 se les ha permitido pagar la matrícula estatal que los estudiantes de residencia legal pagan.

¿Quién califica para pagar colegiaturas o cuotas universitarias de residente?

Los estudiantes 1079 pueden calificar para pagar la matrícula estatal de residente si él o ella:

- Ha recibido el diploma de secundaria/preparatoria de una escuela del estado de Washington o ha recibido su equivalente (GED); y,
- Ha vivido en el estado de Washington por tres años antes de graduarse de la preparatoria; y,
- Ha vivido continuamente en Washington después de recibir el diploma o desde que completó su GED; y puede cumplir con los requisitos de admisión de las escuelas superiores y universidades que son requeridos a todos los estudiantes.

Las diferencias entre colegiaturas y/o cuotas para residentes y no residentes se enlistan a continuación:

	Residentes	No Residentes
University of Washington	$5,286	$17,916
Eastern Washington University	$3,582	$12,438
Central Washington University	$3,654	$11,163
Washington State University	$5,154	$13,572
Western Washington University	$4,453	$13,840
Yakima Valley Community College	$2,291	$ 7,441
Columbia Basin Community College	$2,232	$ 7,440
Skagit Valley College	$2,228	$ 7,214
Wenatchee Valley College	$2,081	$ 7,232
Seattle Central Community College	$2,070	$ 7,221

Appendix 3: Washington HB1079, Spanish Version

¿Qué deben hacer los estudiantes 1079 para inscribirse en la universidad?

1. Completar los papeles de admisión de la universidad o colegio universitario público al que el (la) estudiante desea atender.
2. Llenar y firmar una forma que es una declaración oficial notariada (affidavit) que debe estar disponible en cualquier bachillerato público, universidad o colegio universitario público en el estado.
3. Entregar los papeles de admisión y la declaración oficial notariada (affidavit) a la universidad o colegio universitario público antes de la fecha límite indicada por esa institución.

- La declaración oficial notariada que se requiere que firmen los estudiantes 1079 es una declaración confidencial en la que él (ella) verifica que califica para pagar la cuota de residente, y que él (ella) tratará de obtener residencia legal permanente cuando se le permita hacerlo legalmente.

- Si no se le proporciona o si no está disponible la forma para su declaración oficial notariada, el estudiante 1079 debe pedir a una persona de confianza, ya sea un pariente, amigo, maestro o consejero, que solicite esta forma de la institución a la que él (ella) planea atender.

Esta forma para la declaración oficial notariada también está disponible en el Internet en los siguientes sitios de la red:

www.hecb.wa.gov

Los estudiantes 1079 califican para participar en el programa de Futuros Profesores.

Pagando la universidad - ¿Existen fondos monetarios públicos disponibles para los estudiantes 1079?

Pagar la universidad se hace más difícil para los estudiantes 1079 porque rara vez califican para recibir asistencia pública financiera estatal o federal.

En el año 2004 una posible fuente de asistencia financiera se volvió accesible cuando la legislatura de Washington aprobó fondos para proporcionar becas para futuros profesores. La ley que hace esto posible es el proyecto de ley 2708 [House Bill (HB) 2708], la cual creó el Programa de Becas Condicionales y Préstamos de Repago Para Futuros Profesores.

¿Quién califica para obtener “becas para futuros profesores”?

El programa condicional de Futuros Profesores alienta y ayuda a los estudiantes y a los para-profesionales a ser profesores y ayuda a los actuales profesores a recibir endosos adicionales.

A cambio de las becas, los participantes aceptan enseñar en las escuelas elementarias y secundarias del sistema educativo público. Esta beca debe ser pagada por el recipiente si falla en enseñar o si se niega a enseñar en un salón de clase que necesita un profesor bilingüe.

Se le dará prioridad a los futuros profesores que buscan certificados o endosos en los programas de matemáticas, ciencia, tecnología o educación especial.

Adicionalmente, para el año 2004-2005, se dará prioridad a los estudiantes con demostradas aptitudes bilingües – es decir que los estudiantes tengan fluidez para el idioma inglés y cualquier otro idioma que se necesite en las escuelas de Washington.

Entre 25 y 50 becas para Futuros Profesores serán otorgadas para el año académico del 2004-2005. Aquellos seleccionados a recibir las becas califican para recibir hasta cinco años en fondos mientras trabajan para su certificado de enseñanza o para obtener otro tipo de respaldo adicional de enseñanza.

Las becas dependerán en el costo de matrícula que cobran las escuelas superiores y universidades en donde los participantes asistan pero la cantidad no puede exceder la matrícula estatal que cobra la Universidad de Washington.

Para el año 2004-2005, se dará prioridad a los estudiantes con demostradas aptitudes bilingües

Información importante sobre las becas para Futuros Profesores

- Los estudiantes deben entregar una aplicación al Consejo Coordinador de Educación Superior para el 15 de octubre del año 2004.
- Los estudiantes seleccionados para recibir las becas serán notificados a principios de noviembre del año 2004.
- Para obtener una aplicación y más información sobre el programa condicional de Futuros Profesores visite la página de Internet: www.hecb.wa.gov.

Pagando la Universidad – ¿Están los fondos de instituciones u organizaciones privadas disponibles para los estudiantes 1079?

Los estudiantes 1079, como cualquier otro estudiante, pueden calificar para obtener asistencia financiera de alguna institución u organismo privado, como por ejemplo de individuos, fundaciones o negocios.

Hay muchos individuos y organizaciones que hacen grandes esfuerzos para recaudar fondos para proporcionar becas, especialmente para estudiantes de familias que no pueden pagar los costos de las colegiaturas o las cuotas, o que se enfrentan a otros retos difíciles para continuar su educación superior.

Los estudiantes deben hablar ya sea con los consejeros y/o profesores del bachillerato, o con el personal de registros y de reclutamiento de la universidad para entender mejor cuál es el tipo de asistencia financiera para la que podrían calificar. También deben contactarse con las organizaciones locales que sirven a los estudiantes latinos y a sus familias para que los asistan.

Estudiantes indocumentados, educación y el decreto SUEÑO (DREAM)

El decreto para el Desarrollo, Socorro y Educación Para Menores Extranjeros (siglas en inglés, DREAM) está siendo considerado en el Congreso de los Estados Unidos. Si el Congreso lo aprueba y el presidente de los Estados Unidos lo firma como ley, el decreto SUEÑO permitiría que los estudiantes indocumentados vivieran, trabajaran y asistieran a la universidad legalmente, y también podría conducir a obtener residencia legal permanente y/o la ciudadanía.

El acta del SUEÑO no ha sido aprobado por el Congreso, pero podría ser aprobado en un futuro cercano. Debido a que el año 2004 es un año de elecciones nacionales, no se espera que el decreto SUEÑO sea aprobado este año. Sin embargo, un número creciente de apoyadores bipartidarios del acta del SUEÑO en el Congreso y mucha gente a través de los Estados Unidos está trabajando para que se apruebe el decreto SUEÑO en el año 2005 a favor de miles de estudiantes merecedores.

¿Porqué el decreto SUEÑO es importante para los estudiantes indocumentados?

El archivo del Senado de los Estados Unidos indica:

“El decreto SUEÑO representa un enfoque de “sentido común” en la política de inmigración de los Estados Unidos designado a ayudar a los estudiantes que han pasado la mayoría de sus vidas en nuestro país.

“Anualmente miles de estudiantes indocumentados se gradúan de nuestras preparatorias o secundarias. Muchos vinieron a los Estados Unidos como niños sin tener ningún papel o sin que se considerara su opinión respecto a la decisión de inmigrar a los Estados Unidos, y tal vez no sepan que están viviendo aquí legalmente. Una gran mayoría de ellos creen para ser adultos honestos y trabajadores diligentes que son fieles a los Estados Unidos y que buscan la excelencia académica y profesional.

“El decreto SUEÑO es una póliza bienvenida que ve a los estudiantes indocumentados como el recurso valioso para el futuro de nuestra nación.”

Arriba: líderes importantes en el estado de Washington quienes apoyan oportunidades de educación superior para estudiantes indocumentados

“Por lo tanto, el decreto SUEÑO es una póliza bienvenida que ve a los estudiantes indocumentados como el recurso valioso para el futuro de nuestra nación.”

El Senador Orrin Hatch (R-Utah) y el Senador Richard Durbin (D-IL), copatrocinadores del Acta del SUEÑO, han ganado mucho apoyo de ambos partidos en el Senado de los Estados Unidos.

Si el Congreso aprobara el decreto SUEÑO, ¿quién calificaría?

El decreto SUEÑO otorgaría residencia temporal condicional por seis (6) años para aquellos que:

- Entraron a los Estados Unidos antes de los 16 años de edad;
- Han vivido aquí continuamente por cinco años;
- No han cometido algún crimen;
- Han obtenido el diploma de bachillerato o su GED; y,
- Han sido aceptados a una universidad o colegio universitario público.

Durante el período condicional de residencia de seis años, los estudiantes pueden obtener su estado de residencia legal permanente por medio de alguno de los siguientes medios:

- Obteniendo una licenciatura universitaria de dos años o diploma de escuela vocacional;
- Completando dos años para licenciarse o para participar en un programa de especialización universitaria de maestría en una universidad o colegio superior;
- Sirviendo en el servicio militar de los Estados Unidos.

Importante

- No hay asistencia económica disponible por medio del decreto SUEÑO. Sin embargo, los estudiantes podrían trabajar legalmente una vez que se les otorgue residencia condicional.
- El decreto SUEÑO no concede amnistía.
- El decreto SUEÑO es una propuesta de ley que está siendo considerada por el Congreso y que aún no ha sido aprobada.
